The image shows a login form for 'BSurprise'. The form is contained within a light blue rounded rectangle. At the top left of the form is the 'BSurprise' logo in a stylized font. Below the logo are three input fields: 'Username', 'Password', and 'Interface language'. The 'Interface language' field is a dropdown menu currently set to 'Default'. Below these fields is a link for 'Forgot your password?' and a 'Log in' button. Two red boxes with arrows point to the 'Username' and 'Password' fields, with labels 'Your User Name' and 'Your Password' respectively. At the bottom of the form area, there is a copyright notice: '© 1999-2011, Parallels. All rights reserved.'

The screenshot shows the BSurprise control panel interface. At the top, the logo 'BSurprise' is on the left, and the user information 'Subscriber BSurprise.com (logged in as Hosting Master 3)' and 'Subscription bsurprise.com' is on the right. There are links for 'Help' and 'Video Tutorials', and a 'Powered by Parallels' badge. Below this is a navigation menu with buttons for 'Home', 'Users', 'Mail', 'Websites & Domains', 'Applications', 'Statistics', and 'Account'. The 'Mail' button is highlighted in orange. The main content area is titled 'Mail' and contains a paragraph: 'Create and manage e-mail accounts associated with your domains. For each e-mail account, you can set up a mailbox, a number of additional e-mail addresses that will point to the same mailbox (e-mail aliases), an auto-reply, and mail forwarding to one or several e-mail addresses. You can also set up protection from spam and viruses, if these services are available for your account.' Below the paragraph is a toolbar with three buttons: 'Create E-mail Address' (with a plus icon), 'Change Settings' (with a gear icon), and 'Remove' (with a red X icon). There is also a search box on the right. At the bottom left, it says '8 items total', and at the bottom right, it says 'Number of entries per page: 10 25 100 All'.
